Institutional Background

Founded in 1897 as a land grant institution, Langston University is the only Historically Black College/ University (HBCU) in the state of Oklahoma. The University has a rich history of growth and development that emphasizes the perseverance and dedication of its administration, faculty, and students.

Langston (LU) has both a rural and urban mandated mission with campuses in Langston, Oklahoma City, and Tulsa. The mission is to provide quality post-secondary education to the diverse learners of Langston, ultimately leading to professional competence and degree completion.

Building on its history as an institution established to “instruct both male and female Colored Americans,” Langston continues to educate African-Americans while expanding its purpose and mission to include a more diverse student body.

The University operates under the guidance of the Oklahoma State University/A & M Board of Regents. The urban campuses in Tulsa and Oklahoma City also are directed by a Board of Trustees.

Dr. Ruth Ray Jackson was appointed as the 17th President of Langston University in April 2024 prior to assuming the role as Interim President in July 2023. She has held other leadership positions at the University including Associate Vice President for Student Success and Dean of the School of Education and Behavioral Sciences.

The University is accredited through the Higher Learning Commission. Individual programs are nationally accredited through the: Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing, National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs, Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education, National Association for the Education of Young Children, and the Council on Rehabilitation Education.

Undergraduate students are admitted to LU based on their high school grade point average and class rank or based on their score ranking on the American College Testing (ACT) Program. In addition, students must complete the required units of study for high school students as designated by Oklahoma State Law. Graduate student admission is based on specified program requirements in the fields of education, counseling, business, or physical therapy.

Six schools house the degree programs of Langston: Sherman Lewis School of Agriculture and Applied Sciences, School of Arts and Sciences, School of Business, School of Education and Behavioral Sciences, School of Nursing and Health Professions, and School of Physical Therapy. A total of 40 undergraduate and 6 graduate degree programs are offered at LU. Currently, the top undergraduate majors are Nursing, Psychology, Agricultural Science, Health Physical Education and Recreation, and Business Management.

Vision

Langston University fosters an environment that cultivates leaders, innovators, and engaged citizens who meet the challenges of local, national, and global communities.
(adopted November 2015)

Mission

Grounded in its rich traditions as a historically Black college and university, and a land-grant institution, Langston University offers quality post-secondary education to diverse populations through academic research, community engagement, extension, and co-curricular experiences that lead to professional competence and degree-completion.
(adopted August 2014)
